

Where social health meets resident experience.

CommunityOS is the social health platform for senior living operators - giving communities the infrastructure to identify, deliver, and measure the resident experiences that improve wellbeing and extend life.

Everything a modern senior living community needs to deliver consistent, measurable, person-centered resident experience - built on a single social health data architecture.

Social Health Dashboard

Validated social health scoring and automated outcome surveys that turn enrichment data into a longevity-focused evidence base.

Operational Intelligence

Portfolio-wide utilization, compliance tracking, and community-level drill-down for regional and corporate teams.

Refined Hospitality

Resident app, family portal, social prescribing, and ongoing intelligence collection - all connected and actionable through social health insights.

Programming Excellence

Plan calendars and govern programming across every care setting, with corporate compliance standards and calendar review built in.

A Different Approach

As expectations around resident experience continue to evolve, communities need more than administrative tools. CommunityOS connects programming to outcomes - giving your team the data to understand which experiences are working, for whom, and why.

With the AgeTech landscape continuing to expand, the modern senior living operator needs a platform that helps them understand residents, strengthen social health, and deliver more personalized experiences at scale.

Managing programming isn't the same as improving resident outcomes.

Legacy Solutions

- Track what happened. Calendar, attendance logs, and participation records. Useful for compliance and reporting.
- Community-level data. Satisfy reporting requirements on what's on the schedule and how many people showed up.
- Operational consistency. Tools to manage the logistics of a busy programming calendar, not necessarily an impactful one.
- Standalone systems. Built to run activities - not designed to connect to evidence-based tools or the broader care ecosystem.

CommunityOS

- ✓ Measure impact. Social health metrics and validated scoring connect programming decisions to resident wellbeing over time.
- ✓ Social health data. Community trends, participation data, and ongoing assessments surface individual needs proactively - before loneliness and disengagement deepen.
- ✓ Continuous improvement. Corporate compliance standards and calendar review tools give operators the ability to consistently raise the bar.
- ✓ An open ecosystem. Priced and architected to help you bring best-in-class evidence-based tools - including Rendever - so communities can implement what the research shows.

Social health is a clinical issue. We have 10 years of clinical research supporting our approach.
